NEW TITLES FOR SPRING 2024

Artwork from Cactus Queen, illustrated by Jenn Ely

Kid seeks dog. Dog seeks kid. In this charming and imaginative tale of friendship, picture book readers will delight in what it means to have a furry best friend.

For as long as she can remember, Joy has wanted a dog. It doesn't matter what kind: big, little, spotted, curly. She wants one so fiercely, she makes dogs out of snow, seashells, or whatever's at hand! However, none of the dogs Joy makes are quite what she yearns for. The seashell dog washes away, and the snow dog melts into a puddle. Little does Joy know that her perfect dog friend is just around the corner—wishing just as fiercely for a kid—and waiting to be discovered.

Award-winning artist Hadley Hooper creates a world that is both timeless and magical as she weaves ink, paint, and collages made from vintage etchings together in a style that perfectly complements the classic feel of Jump for Joy. Readers will rejoice in this satisfying kid-meets-dog story, and will savor returning to this world again and again.

A Bear, a Fish, and a Fishy Wish

by Daniel Bernstrom

illustrated by

Brandon James Scott

Don't miss A Bear, a Bee, and a Honey Tree!

RIGHTS SOLD: French (mineditionFr);
German (mineditionAG)

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Daniel Bernstrom is a poet and the author of six picture books, including One Day in the Eucalyptus, Eucalyptus Tree, illustrated by Brendan Wenzel. His book Big Papa and the Time Machine won the Minnesota Book Award. Daniel lives in Worthington, Minnesota with his wife and five adorable children.

From the creators of A Bear, a Bee, and a Honey Tree comes another fun-to-read romp featuring lovable, hungry Bear. This time, he's after a determined fish, who has an altogether different plan!

Readers of the beloved A Bear, a Bee, and a Honey Tree met a bear who longed for honey, but never got to eat any. In this boisterous follow-up, will Bear's luck change? He's spotted a fish! And his wish? To gobble up this delicious fish dish, of course! Sadly for Bear, this is no ordinary fish—he's a homesick fellow determined to get back upstream where he belongs. Once again, Daniel Bernstrom and Brandon James Scott show off their deep understanding of what makes kids laugh. The longing, the chase, the action, and splash—and the delightfully tongue twisting text—will have kids asking to hear this story again and again. With just a few words and page after page of fantastic expressions, A Bear, a Fish, and a Fishy Wish has the madcap energy and playfulness that keeps kids riveted—as they learn to read!

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

By day Brandon James Scott is a Creative Director working in animation and by night he illustrates picture books. He has worked on a range of hit animated entertainment including his own creation, the award-winning series, Justin Time. He loves to make art that brings adventure, levity, heart, and curiosity for the fantastic and whimsical world around us.

Itty Bitty Betty Blob

by Constance Lombardo

Illustrated by Micah Player

More from Constance Lombardo!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Constance Lombardo began drawing when she was 10 years old, inspired in part by the Illustrators Annuals her dad brought home from the advertising agency where he worked, and in part by her sister doing a drawing and getting lots of attention. She's the author/illustrator of the middle grade Mr. Puffball series (HarperCollins) the picture book, Everybody Says Meow, and Hippo Park's hilarious Tiny Spoon vs. Little Fork. She lives in Asheville, NC with her family.

Itty Bitty Betty Blob wants to growl for the camera on monster picture day, but every year it goes wrong. Will practice make perfect? Or can Betty find a way to be her own blobby little smiling self?

A tender, funny picture book with massive monster appeal—perfect for fans of Sweetie by Andrea Zuyll and classics, such as Stand Tall, Molly Lou Melon and Chrysanthemum.

It's monster picture day again, and Itty Bitty Betty Blob sits in front of the mirror where she practices growling for the camera. But for Betty it's not so easy. She's not a typical monster, so she doesn't love scaring people. What she loves is dancing and rainbows and cute furry creatures. So when mom hands her a perfectly horrible scaly black dress to wear on picture day, Betty isn't sure. Of course she wants to make mom happy, so she practices her growls in the mirror, and tries to look as monstrous as her school friends. She even heads off to school with high hopes, practicing all the way there . . . and that's when she makes a discovery and soon finds herself among new friends with ideas that just feel right.

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

Micah Player began his illustration career designing and illustrating for Paul Frank Industries. He is the author/illustrator of the picture books Chloe, Instead and the Lately Lily series (Chronicle Books). He is the illustrator more recently of two books by Lucky Diaz: Palatero Man and La Guitarrista (Harper). He lives in a little house beneath a giant tree in the Utah mountains, with a lovely schoolteacher (and wife) named Stephanie. They are the parents of two kids, one Yorkshire terrier, and several Casio keyboards.

Mermaids' Song to the Sea

by Dianna Hutts Aston

Illustrated by Renee Kurilla

Three little diverse mermaids set off to deliver charming bedtime blessings to all the creatures of the ocean in this sweetly reassuring rhyming picture book.

In this gorgeous rhyming picture book perfect for cozy bedtime reading, three mermaid troubadours sing their blessings to sea creatures everywhere. “Bless clams in their beds, and lobsters in pods,” they sing. “Sharks in their shivers, and squids in their squads.” Draped with leis and strumming harps, the mermaids travel the ocean to deliver a benediction to their beloved community—fish, whales, sharks, sea snails and many more. Endpapers will identify all of the featured ocean creatures in this one-of-a-kind book that honors the denizens of the sea and brims with a gentle spirit of kindness and environmental awareness. With colorful, ethereal illustrations that will have young mermaid lovers turning the pages again and again, this special picture book is ideal for gift giving, vacation/staycation readalouds, or enjoying in a group storytime anywhere.

Come Closer, Tatita

by Imapla

Also available in Spanish:
Tata, Tatita, Tata

A young girl's five senses take her on a journey through sweet memories of her tatita, her grandmother, in this heartfelt picture book.

This moving tale introduces the youngest picture book audience to a girl who misses her grandmother—whom she calls Tata or Tatita, as is traditional in many Spanish-speaking cultures—and yearns to spend time with her. But Tatita is not here any more. The spare, striking illustrations make it ambiguous whether the girl misses her tata because she lives in a faraway place, is ill, or has passed on. Yet this gorgeous, deceptively simple book's ending makes it clear that no matter what, your tatita lives in your heart, and you can always hold her in your memory.

Simone

by Viet Thanh Nguyen

Illustrated by Minnie Phan

From Pulitzer Prize-winning author Viet Thanh Nguyen and illustrator Minnie Phan comes an unforgettable story of a Vietnamese American girl whose life is transformed by a wildfire.

When Simone is awakened by her mom as a wildfire threatens their home, it is the beginning of a life-changing journey. On their way to take shelter in a high school gym, the family passes firefighters from a prison unit battling the fire. Simone's mom tells her that when she was a girl in Viet Nam, she was forced to evacuate her home after a flood. Joined by other children sheltering in the gym, Simone, a budding artist, encourages everyone to draw as a way to process their situation. After a few days, Simone and her mom are able to return to their home, which is fortunately still standing, and her outlook has changed. As Simone begins creating a piece of art with one of her new friends from the shelter, she realizes that they too can be firefighters, dreaming and working for a more sustainable future. With a poetic, haunting family story by esteemed author Viet Thanh Nguyen and gorgeous art from Vietnamese American illustrator Minnie Phan, this powerful tale introduces an unforgettable young heroine who awakens to a new role fighting for her community and for the future of the planet.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Viet Thanh Nguyen is a Vietnamese American author and professor. Viet's debut novel, The Sympathizer, won the Pulitzer Prize for Fiction. He also coauthored with his son Chicken of the Sea, a picture book illustrated by Thi Bui and her son. He lives in Los Angeles, California.

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

Minnie Phan is a queer Vietnamese American cartoonist and illustrator born in Stockton, CA, and raised across the Bay Area. Her debut picture book was The Yellow Áo Dài, written by Hanh Bui. Minnie's work also includes animation and comics, and she has created art for the San Francisco Museum of Modern Art and the San Francisco Public Library.

The power of childrens' imaginations takes center stage in this gorgeous, playful rhyming picture book about a group of kids who build a make-believe world in their homes.

Just look at what you can build out of ordinary stuff when you follow your imagination! Children and their caretakers will love this beguiling child-led tour of a make-believe world constructed from everyday household and backyard objects. Words and pictures work together cleverly to spark eureka moments: that "ship" is really a table, that "dark cave" is really a laundry basket, and more, as a day full of building, playing, and pretending turns into bedtime. Children will use their own imaginations and storytelling skills as they figure out what the book's busy characters are up to in the gorgeous collage-style art. With perfect rhymes that make it an irresistible read-aloud, this delightful book is a classic in the making perfect for a wide audience of parents and childcare professionals, especially anyone seeking a book that celebrates creative play.

Like No Other Earth's Coolest One- of-a-Kind Creatures

by Sneed B. Collard III

Illustrated by

Christopher Silas Neal

This fascinating look at thirteen unusual animals, many of them rare or endangered, introduces the remarkable world of monotypic animals—those without any close relatives.

One-of-a-kind animals can be as familiar as the platypus or as unfamiliar as the purple frog. These fascinating and mysterious species belong to an exclusive club of living things: those with no close living relatives, making them monotypic species. Meet more than a dozen of these creatures (including humans!), learn what makes them unique, and explore the relationships among species on the evolutionary tree. Written by award-winning author Sneed B. Collard III, this fascinating nonfiction picture book is ideal for kids, teachers, and librarians and includes extensive back matter and activities.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Loch Ness Uncovered How Fake News Fueled the Greatest Monster Hoax of All Time

by Rebecca Siegel

Just in time for the 90th anniversary of the iconic Loch Ness photo comes a meticulously researched account of the world’s most famous monster hoax and a cautionary tale on the dangers of misinformation.

In 1934, a man was walking by a lake in the Scottish Highlands when he saw a long-necked creature swimming in the water. He grabbed his camera and snapped a photo. When the photo landed on the front page of the Daily Mail, it shattered the belief that paranormal creatures were pure fiction. But amid the monster-hunting craze, complex conspiracies soon emerged. The Loch Ness Monster became more than a mysterious sea creature—it became a phenomenon that caused people to question their assumptions and dig for the truth.

Meticulously researched through primary sources and in-depth interviews with key figures, Loch Ness Uncovered is the fascinating true story of the conspiracy that sparked intrigue worldwide. Complete with archival images, an engaging narrative, and a guide to media literacy, here is a nonfiction book that will transport young readers to the thrilling world of monster mania.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Rebecca Siegel is the author of several nonfiction books, including To Fly Among the Stars and Mayflower, which was named a 2021 EUREKA! Nonfiction Children’s Honor Book. ## True Colors

by Abby Cooper

Turning Red meets The Giver in this novel about a town where everyone agrees to think positively—but one girl, whose emotions manifest as colors, can't hide her true feelings.

In the town of Serenity everyone looks on the bright side, and that's on purpose: to live in this town, people have to agree to talk positively and only focus on the good things in life. For twelve-year-old Mackenzie Werner, who has the rare gift of her emotions showing up as a colorful haze around her body, this town seems like the perfect place; she'll never face the embarrassment of a grumbly grapefruit smog if everyone and everything is set up to be happy. But when a documentary maker comes to town and starts asking questions, Mackenzie, overwhelmed with emotion, can't hold her haze back—and it explodes onto the whole town. Now everyone has their own haze, revealing their real feelings. As Mackenzie learns that emotions go beyond surface level, the whole town must reckon with what it means now that these true colors are on display.

Illustrated by Anna Raff

Perfect for fans of Mo Willems and Jon Klassen, award-winning author Sharon G. Flake’s story about a very serious cat and a very silly duck will inspire giggles with every reading.

Best friends Duck and Cat have a problem—Cat makes Duck sneeze! “I think—achoo!—I’m allergic to you,” Duck declares. Hilarity ensues as Cat keeps trying to solve the problem—but Duck keeps sneezing! Is Duck really allergic to Cat or is something else going on?

Written completely in dialogue, this text is fun to read aloud and easy enough for newly independent readers to enjoy on their own. Humorous illustrations highlight the characters’ personalities, emphasizing Duck’s quirky humor and Cat’s earnestness. This dynamic duo will charm readers as the sly friendship tale keeps them laughing.

Night Stories: Folktales from Latin America

by Liniers

Classic Latin American folktales get an update in this new collection by celebrated author Liniers!

Eisner Award-winner Liniers applies his exuberant cartooning skills and irrepressible sense of humor to three folktales he grew up with. From the Amazon basin comes the story of La Yuna, a mermaid (or is she a pink dolphin?) who lures young men to her underground domain. From Chile and Uruguay comes the legend of La Lechuza, an enormous Owl with the face of a woman, who terrorizes those who venture out after dark. Finally, on the Argentine pampas, we witness two gauchos' encounter with La Luz Mala, a spooky, evanescent light that terrorizes travelers. Liniers's funny and witty storytelling, with surprise revelations and lighthearted twists, combined with well-documented backmatter and a bibliography, is sure to make these timeless tales come alive for all young readers.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Liniers's US debut, The Big Wet Balloon, was selected as one of Parents Magazine's Top Ten Best Childrens' Books. Liniers is from Buenos Aires, Argentina, but he now lives in Vermont with his wife and three young daughters.

A Delicious Story

by Barney Saltzberg

“Children will giggle; many will be inspired to craft their own tales... Rib-tickling for many beginning readers and writers.”

—Kirkus Reviews

“You ate the story?” says one mouse to the other in this thoughtful, funny, and heartfelt read-aloud with pitch-perfect repartee and Barney Saltzberg’s signature take on the perils and pleasures of creativity.

Two mice—one big and one small—have a terrible problem in this satisfying comedic journey that parents and children will want to take together again and again. Little Mouse is looking for a story—they’re in a book after all!—and Big Mouse has to admit the truth. The story is gone. And (gasp!) he ate it. That is not okay with Little Mouse, who expects his story and will settle for nothing less. What follows is an improvisational dialogue that showcases both the patience and discipline required of true creativity and the dazzling on-the-spot storytelling that can happen when you get in the flow. Parents, teachers, and kids alike will cheer for these heroic mice as they work out the kinks in their friendship and make the reader realize that they’ve been delivering a story all along.

“This book IS delicious. Pun WAY intended. Imaginative and connecting.” —Jamie Lee Curtis, bestselling author

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Barney Saltzberg is the author of more than 30 books for children, including Beautiful Oops!, My Book of Beautiful Oops!, Good Egg, and the best-selling Touch and Feel Kisses series. ## Some Do, Some Don't

by Dipacho

“(A) simple, straightforward, and soothing text about individuality. Dipacho has reassuringly encapsulated just about every experience a young reader may have. Soft pastel textures in a mostly primary palette provide a charming backdrop to project onto, with expressive jabirus of various sizes and dispositions.”
—Kirkus Reviews

How do families live together, and why are they sometimes apart? This profound and moving book will inspire reflection and conversation about what unites us and what makes us distinct individuals.

Colombian creator Dipacho explores the many ways we live with other people—or, at times, apart from them—with striking illustrations of the jabiru, the largest member of the stork family of birds. In spare, poetic text and stunning watercolors, Dipacho honors family togetherness as well as families whose members choose to live apart, or are separated by circumstances. Moving spreads pay tribute to family members who have died, and those just born. This ingeniously conceived book gives equal weight to the conventional and the unconventional arrangements in which we live, sparking conversations about what it means to be a family. The book ends with informational back matter about the fascinating jabiru stork, grounding it in the world of facts.

2023 WINNING ILLUSTRATOR of the Bologna Children's Book Fair

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Dipacho, the pseudonym of Diego Francisco Sanchez Rodriguez, is the creator of the picture book Antonia: A Journey to a New Home. ## Papá's Magical Water-Jug Clock

by Jesús Trejo

illustrated by Eliza Kinkz

Also available to license
in Spanish: El Barrilito Mágico de Papá

Coming in Fall 2024!
Mamá's Magnificent Dancing Plantitas

Is this jug really magical? In Mexican American comedian Jesús Trejo's debut picture book, little Jesús makes a big, funny mistake as he works alongside his landscaper papá, but father and son find a heartwarming solution.

Little Jesús is excited to spend a Saturday with his landscaper Papá at the “family business.” He loves Papá's cool truck and all the tools he gets to use. Papá even puts him in charge of the magical water jug, which is also a clock! When it's empty, Papá explains, the workday will be done. It's a big job, and Jesús wants to do it right. But he just can't help giving water to an array of thirsty animals—a dog in a sweater, some very old cats, and a flock of peacocks. Before he knows it, the magical water jug is empty—but the workday's not over yet! Will Jesús be fired?! Or is the jug not really magical after all? This mischievous tale of a very young comedian's life lesson will warm hearts and have class clowns, practical jokers, and all high-spirited kids nodding in sympathy.

Jesús finds himself on another high-spirited adventure: this time involving his Mama, some houseplants, and mischievous jokes and antics that will have readers laughing out loud!

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Jesús Trejo is a comedian, the creator of the Showtime special Stay at Home Son, and an actor on the Netflix series Mr. Iglesias and the TV Land series Teachers. ## Luna Ranchera

by Rodrigo Morlesin

illustrated by

Mariana Ruiz Johnson

“A strikingly original story of overcoming the odds. . . . This rags-to-riches story of a mother-and-daughter pair making it big will pull at readers’ heartstrings. . . . The writing has an appealingly folksy, tall-tale feeling. Reminiscent of Raul the Third’s artwork.”

—Kirkus Reviews

Welcome to the show! ¡Bienvenidos! This rags-to-riches tale of a doggy mother-daughter singing act in the Nuevo Wild West will enchant dog lovers, music lovers, and anyone looking for new Latinx voices.

This spellbinding original story opens in a cantina crowded with desert animals, cowboys, and cowgirls all excited to see the glamorous Luna Ranchera mother-daughter singing duo. Long ago, Luna was down on her luck, starving and struggling to feed her pups, reduced to thieving from nearby ranchers. One day, escaping another heist, Luna has to hide in the worst possible place: on top of a beehive! She howls in pain so loudly, it carries all across the desert. It turns out Luna’s musical wails are something special, captivating creatures far and wide. Her most rebellious pup, Ranchera, joins her, and soon the two become the famous howling singing act with the flea-bitten souls, Luna Ranchera! Immersive and unforgettable, with knockout, whimsical art, the tale ends with the lyrics to Luna Ranchera’s most famous song. Perfect for fans of Coco and Soul.

Meowl-o-ween

by Diane Muldrow

illustrated by Tiffany Chen

“From the cover image of a rooftop-leaping kitty’s shadowy silhouette, it’s clear that Halloween has gone to the cats in this celebration of trick-or-treat and felinekind. Muldrow builds a bit of gentle suspense with rhyming text... Chen gets the clowder’s postures and behaviors just right, creating cat-tastically crowded, digitally rendered interspecies scenes of friends having a joyful, treat-filled time. Fun for cat lovers and Halloween fans alike.”

—Publishers Weekly

It’s Halloween night, also known as Meowl-o-ween, when cats from far and wide are on the prowl, ready to give trick-or-treaters a fright. Can one scared lost kitten overcome her fears and join in the fun?

On frightful, delightful Meowl-o-ween, cats slink by carved pumpkins and prepare to spook the trick-or-treaters parading the streets. But not all of the cats are enjoying the flashing lights and costumes. A lone kitten is overwhelmed by the crowds and doesn’t know which way to turn! This fresh Halloween tale is a rhyming read-aloud that shows even the smallest scaredy-cat can find the courage to overcome their fears and anxieties.

In this story about Día de los Reyes, or Three Kings' Day, a girl and her family discover new ways to celebrate their heritage.

It's eleven days after Christmas and Liliana yearns to be in lush Puerto Rico celebrating Día de los Reyes with family and friends. But this year, instead of dancing and singing in the parrandas of her Puerto Rican neighborhood, she is surrounded by snow up north. How will she ever be able to guide the Three Kings to her new home? This picture book is a celebration of culture and family traditions—and a reminder that we all carry a piece of home with us wherever life may take us.

How Birds Sleep

by David Obuchowski

illustrated by Sarah Pedry

Discover the mysterious and fascinating sleeping habits of more than twenty bird species from around the world in this gorgeously illustrated read-aloud picture book, perfect for bedtime, or any time.

Have you ever seen a bird sleep? Or wondered just when it is that migrating cranes find the time to catch Z's as they cross the ocean? From the parrots of Thailand to the ostriches of Australia and even the pigeons of New York City, every bird sleeps—but they do it in ways that will surprise and delight you. Some hang from tree branches, others doze while gliding, and some even burrow underground for a nap. Written in a witty, conversational voice, and with gorgeous illustrations, this picture book is bursting with interesting facts about this underexplored aspect of bird life all around us.

“Fascinating. . . gorgeously illustrated and full of facts for hungry young minds. . . Whether this is used as a bedtime read-aloud, or as part of a class unit on birds or animal adaptations—it is sure to capture the attention and imagination of young readers.”

—Suzanne Costner, The Fairview Review

“Did you ever wonder how and where birds sleep once the sun goes down? . . . Pedry’s artwork is a definite highlight. . . Share this one-on-one or in very small groups so children can see the details.” —Kirkus Reviews

The Kitten Story A Mostly True Tale

by Emily Jenkins

illustrated by Brittany Cicchese

When a cat-loving family decides to bring home a pet, their quest reveals the highs and lows of everyday family life in this heartwarming story—perfect for kitten lovers and everyone who’s ever longed for a pet.

Finally, it’s time for this family to adopt a pet of their own! But big decisions remain to be made. The two children, Tulip and Rosie, definitely want a kitten. But Daddy insists an older cat is best. No one can agree about what name to give the new family member, either. When Mommy and Rosie visit a shelter to choose their pet, yet another problem arises and they must go home empty-handed. This deftly paced story from best-selling author Emily Jenkins—winsomely narrated by Mommy, who just wants to find peaceful solutions—highlights themes of finding family unity among realistic conflict and overcoming disappointment. Readers will rejoice along with the family as, finally, they welcome home their very own, absolutely wonderful kitten.

Shipwrecked! Diving for Hidden Time Capsules on the Ocean Floor

by Martin W. Sandler

From National Book Award–winning author Martin W. Sandler, here is a fascinating look at what shipwrecks reveal about our world’s past—and how exploring them led to the development of a whole new field of science: marine archaeology.

Most of the world’s ocean floor remains to be discovered. In fact, it’s estimated to be home to over 3 million sunken vessels and countless treasures of the past. This enthralling and adventure-filled nonfiction book for young readers recounts some of the most captivating shipwrecks from history, ranging from the Shinan, a Chinese merchant ship laden with riches from the 14th century, to the the HMS Erebus and Terror, two polar exploration ships that mysteriously disappeared in the early 1800s. Combining new research, stunning archival material, and vivid storytelling, Shipwrecked! dives deep into the world of marine archaeology and shows young readers what each discovery reveals about the world before our time.

“In individual chapters, the National Book Award–winning author focuses on seven shipwrecks with perhaps lesser-known recognition but notable historical significance. . . . Most important, however, are the connections made to humans’ impact on history, from trade routes to technological advances to the horrors of slavery. Photos from the expedition scenes and lengthy sidebars on such topics as the role of women sponge divers on shipwreck discoveries add more insight to this thought-provoking STEM offering.” —Booklist

This Orq.

Part of a 3-book series

(He Cave Boy.)

by David Elliott

illustrated by Lori Nichols

This picture book filled with humor and heart is ideal for anyone wishing for a pet to join their family.

Meet Orq, cave boy. And Woma, woolly mammoth.

Orq love Woma. Only one problem: Mom not a fan. Mom says Woma shed; Woma smell; Woma not house-trained. Is there any way Orq can convince his mom that Woma belongs with them? Orq has a plan. Well, kind of. . .

Hilarious and sweet, this engaging story is a perfect addition to any home library.

In this irresistible 3-book series, an exuberant cave boy (Orq) and his beloved woolly mammoth (Woma) tackle universal challenges. This Orq. (He say UGH!) pits Orq and Woma against a couple of stone-age bullies. In This Orq. (He #1!), Orq is overshadowed by a new kid, who seems to be best at everything, until Orq's scientific ingenuity is invaluable in a crisis.

Ginger the Halloween witch has a big Christmas wish—a visit from Santa Claus. But Santa doesn't believe in witches—until Ginger's letter to him magically appears on his desk! This book is a perfect Christmas gift or stocking stuffer for kids.

Ginger spends a lot of her time creating spells, and flying through the night on her broom. But she is different from the other witches—because she also ADORES Christmas! Even with Ginger's good deeds and endless Christmas cheer, she's never received a single visit from Santa. What's a Christmas-loving Halloween witch supposed to do? In this twist on the Christmas holiday's traditional "believe" concept, Ginger's wish of a Merry Witchmas comes true thanks to some holiday magic and good cheer.

The King's Golden Beard

by Klaas Verplancke

Eligible for a translation grant from Flanders Literature

Who's to blame when a vain, heedless king meets his comeuppance? He is, of course! Fans of Tomi Ungerer's mischievous humor and Jon Agee's sly morality tales will be delighted by this hilarious read-aloud about a long, long beard and its short-sighted royal owner, by a popular Belgian illustrator, designer, and animation whiz.

The lush, golden royal beard is a wondrous thing—especially to the king himself. He spends his days admiring and grooming it, and passes laws making it a crime punishable by death for anyone else's face to sport even a single hair. As the people of the kingdom nervously shave daily, the royal beard grows and grows until it appears at the palace's back gate. What happens next will have readers laughing along—and cheering for the astronomers who, unlike the tyrannical king, know that the earth is round.

Loujain Dreams of Sunflowers

by Uma Mishra-Newbery,
Lina Al-Hathloul
illustrated by Rebecca Green

A courageous girl follows her dream of learning to fly in this “clever narrative” filled with “extraordinary spirit... gorgeous colors... a magical quality” (New York Times). Inspired by formerly imprisoned human rights activist Loujain AlHathloul, this sparkling fantasy story is perfect for fans of Malala’s Magic Pencil and the Rebel Girls series.

“Poetic, moving, and empowering.” —Kirkus Reviews

Loujain watches her beloved baba attach his feather wings and fly each morning, but her own dreams of flying face a big obstacle: only boys, not girls, are allowed to fly in her country. Yet despite the taunts of her classmates, she is determined to do it—especially because Loujain loves colors, and only by flying can she see the color-filled field of sunflowers her baba has told her about. Eventually, he agrees to teach her, and Loujain’s impossible dream becomes reality—and soon other girls dare to learn to fly.

Based on the experiences of co-author Lina AlHathloul’s sister, Nobel Peace Prize nominee Loujain AlHathloul, who led the successful campaign to lift Saudi Arabia’s ban on women driving, this moving and gorgeously illustrated story reminds us to strive for the changes we want to see—and to never take for granted women’s and girls’ freedoms.

In this charming and nostalgia-filled companion to the best-selling picture book Grandpa's Tractor, a grandmother shares her fond memories of farm life.

Grandma Ginny and Timmy take a trip to visit the site of the family farm, where the old house and some rickety buildings still stand. Timmy had visited with Grandpa before and learned all about his tractor, but Grandma has her own stories to tell of planting the fields, harvesting the crops, and feeding the animals. Guided by Grandma's farm diary and her fond memories, Timmy and Grandma tour the land and talk about what life was like back then. This heartwarming intergenerational story is perfect for grandparents to share with their grandchildren, and for those looking for a story to share about simpler times.

Michael Garland has written and illustrated many books for children, including Miss Smith and the Haunted Library, Ferry Boat, and Birds Make Nests. He lives in Patterson, New York.

City Under the City

by Dan Yaccarino

Don't miss The Longest Storm!

From acclaimed author-illustrator Dan Yaccarino comes an exhilarating adventure—set in a richly imagined alternate future—celebrating autonomy, community, and the power of reading, perfect for fans of The Rock From the Sky.

Bix lives with her family in a city where people rarely talk or play together, and no longer read books. Instead, they stare at small portable screens, monitored by giant eyeballs. The Eyes are here to help! With everything. But Bix would like to do things for herself. Running from an Eye, she discovers another world: the City Under the City. There, she befriends a rat who leads her to a library and its treasure trove of books and knowledge. As she explores the abandoned city, she's thrilled to learn about the people who lived there, with no Eyes. But she misses her family, and decides to head home, where, just maybe, she can help defeat the intrusive Eyes—and show her people how to think for themselves and enjoy each other's company. Told through Dan Yaccarino's stunning graphic style, this page-turning picture book/early reader crossover will spark a new appreciation of reading, books, independence, friendship, and family.

How to Draw a Happy Cat

by Ethan T. Berlin

illustrated by Jimbo Matison

Coming in Fall 2024!

How to Draw a Brave Chicken

Drawing a brave chicken is not as easy as it looks in this sequel to How To Draw a Happy Cat. Chicken must learn to be brave as she stops hiding, gains armor, fight off dragons and eventually flies into space.

Cover not final

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Ethan T. Berlin is a dad, a writer, a comedy teacher, and an all-around funny guy. He lives with his family in New Jersey.

A “How to Draw” lesson spins hilariously out of control when Cat just won’t stay happy! It’s up to you, the reader, to help!

Drawing a happy cat seems like such an easy thing to do. Just follow the instructions in this book! Wait a minute... why doesn’t Cat look happy? Uh-oh! Turns out drawing a happy cat is harder than it looks. This clever, often tender, laugh-out-loud picture book breaks the fourth wall in charming ways; will have kids asking for repeat reads; and will definitely have parents nodding knowingly at the escalating cycle of demands. Can you draw a happy cat?

ABOUT THE ILLUSTRATOR

Jimbo Matison is an illustrator, a writer/director, and a former punk rocker. He lives with his family in Brooklyn.

“This is a S-L-O-W book. Do not read it while surfing, water skiing, or running to escape giant weasels. . .”

April Pulley Sayre’s wry, quirky storytelling tone shines from the warning on the first page right through to the glossary at the end. In between, readers will explore an astounding variety of information about all things slow—in nature, geology, art, outer space, etc. Throughout, The SLOWEST Book EVER playfully encourages readers to slow down and savor everything. As Sayre shows: “If you think slowly enough, the entire world is amazing.” This innovative nonfiction work is a treasure trove of information that begs for multiple readings.

Blancaflor, The Hero with Secret Powers: Folktales from Latin America

A TOON Graphic
by Nadja Spiegelman
illustrated by
Sergio García Sánchez

One of the New York Times Best Children's Books of 2021

A Children's Book about finally being seen. Blancaflor, a superb graphic storytelling of a classic Latin American folktale, showcases the invisible labor of women and the contributions of Indigenous cultures.

A damsel to the rescue! Raised by a mean ogre of a father who eats his opponents for dinner, Blancaflor is often told not to show off her own considerable powers for fear of scaring off suitors. When a prince falls from the sky and wakes up in her lap, she is spellbound and moves heaven and earth to help the endearing, yet not so clever, young man, all while trying not to let him know. With their trademark magnificent brio, Nadja Spiegelman and Sergio García Sánchez update a classic tale extolling the strength and resourcefulness of women.

A diverse story with a strong female lead that extols the strength and resourcefulness of women, while offering an imaginative retelling of a beloved folktale.

About Our Imprints

Astra Young Readers is committed to creating award-winning, high-quality fiction and nonfiction books for children of all ages. We emphasize exceptional writing, research, artistry, and innovative approaches to storytelling. We publish books that inspire compassion, open-mindedness, and the joy of discovery.

Calkins Creek Books introduces children to the many people, places, and events that shaped history. Our picture books, chapter books, and novels combine original and extensive research with creative, energetic writing. Our authors transport their readers back in time to recognizable places with living and breathing people.

Hippo Park books reflect the joyful, surprising, often befuddling, and endlessly fascinating world our children live in. Hippo Park books are fun and funny—because laughter brings people together, and it brings kids to reading! Done well, funny goes deep, too—helping kids feel seen and understood.

Kane Press is an award-winning publisher of illustrated STEAM and literacy titles that kids love as much as educators and parents do. Our fiction and nonfiction books for ages 3–12 feature fun stories with curriculum connections and are the perfect springboard for learning in classrooms, libraries, and homes.

Minerva is named for the Roman goddess who was revered as the protector of artists and artisans. Minerva is an evolution of the mineditionUS imprint and continues a publishing tradition devoted to opening children's minds and hearts to the promise and challenges of the world we share.

TOON Books has revolutionized the field by producing a series of award-winning comics designed specifically for readers grades K–3. The concept—to get top-notch practitioners to apply their magic to kids' comics—helped the imprint produce titles which have garnered top literary awards.

Wordsong is the only children's imprint in the United States specifically dedicated to poetry. We publish poetry collections for all ages in formats ranging from picture book to graphic novel to novels in verse. Words change the way we see the world, and nowhere is that truer than in poetry.
