We are expanding our phonics readers and classroom resources for the Little Wandle systematic synthetic phonics programme, validated by the UK's Department for Education. Collins Adapt is our latest adaptive technology platform that helps teachers to identify gaps in learning and provide interventions to support all students to reach their own potential. For Cambridge International endorsed resources, we have an upcoming six-level course for the Cambridge Global Perspectives™ curriculum framework (0838).

We at Collins believe in choice and variety and whilst we appreciate you will see resources from many excellent publishers, we'd love to take the opportunity to talk to you about our materials. Please do get in touch with your regional representative (details are on the back page), or email us at collins.international@harpercollins.co.uk and one of us will get back to you as soon as we can.

Cover Explanation

Published in 1863, Jules Verne's Five Weeks in a Balloon is the novel that helped him to perfect his classic style of combining an exciting storyline with vivid historical and geographical descriptions. In the spirit of adventure and exploration, our Sales team have been very excited to be travelling again to visit schools and attend conferences internationally, which is why we thought this cover illustration was perfect for this year, as we continue to support educators and learners all over the world.

Collins International Foundation and Foundation Plus

Authors: Peter Clarke, Arabella Koopman and Fiona MacGregor

Provide a firm foundation at early year stage in English, maths and science in preparation for primary education

Collins International Foundation and Foundation Plus is an early years programme for English, maths and science that can be used across two years leading up to the first year of full primary education.

The programme introduces young children to phonics and early literacy skills, maths concepts and science content in an age-appropriate way through topic-based discovery and activity-based learning. It provides plenty of learning opportunities through games, active play and hands-on exploration.

Careful progression ensures children develop the skills they need to be ready for English, maths and science in their first year of primary. The materials in Foundation Plus build on what is covered in Foundation to ensure that all students will be fully prepared for the learning ahead no matter which programme or curriculum their school is following.

The underlying themes – common across English, maths and science – allow the courses to be used together so that children build up knowledge, skills and vocabulary holistically. It can also be used alongside other courses to provide a comprehensive early years programme.

Developed in consultation with expert practitioners, the courses benefit from current thinking and best practice in early years education and have been informed by a wide range of curricula and frameworks used in international schools.

Activity Books

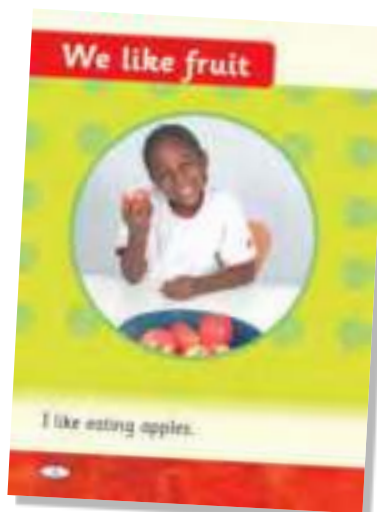

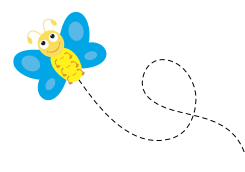

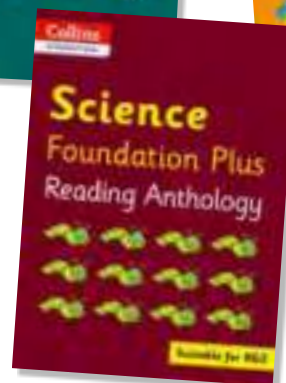

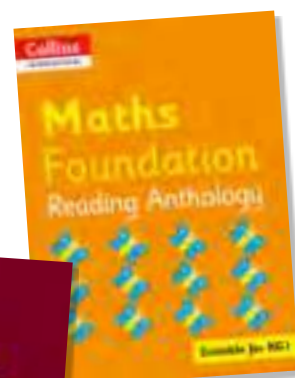

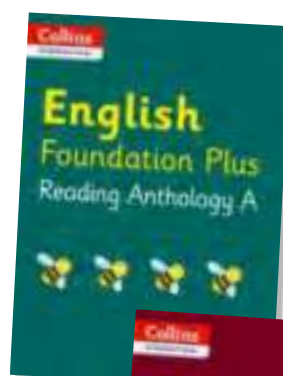

Full-colour Activity Books provide age-appropriate and fun core skills practice, allowing teachers to see and record progress, as well as show parents the child's progress in class.

Reading Anthologies

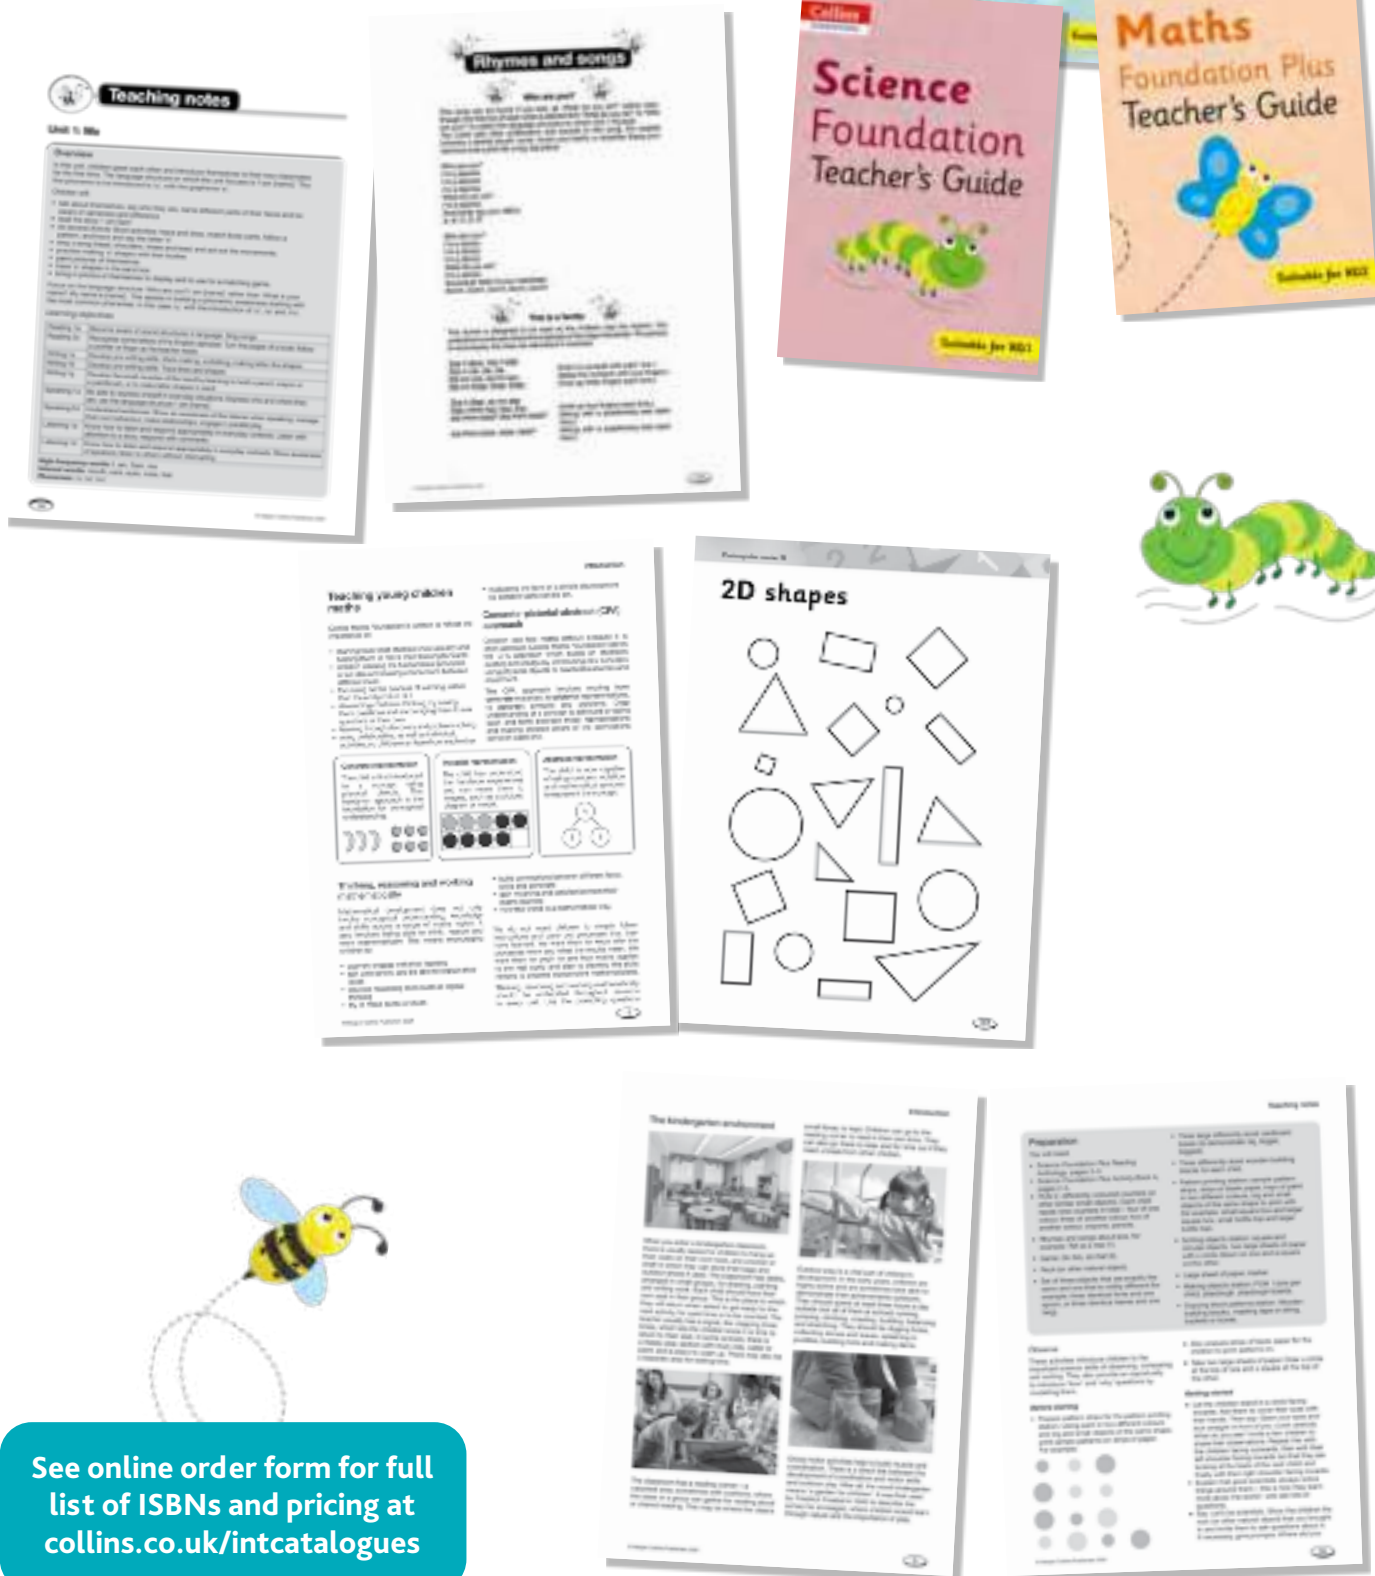

Brightly illustrated Reading Anthologies offer a carefully selected collection of colourful stimulus materials to help support the teaching of key concepts in English, maths and science as well as the development of early literacy skills.

The English course has a Reading Anthology for each term at each level. Maths and science each have a Reading Anthology per level.

Teacher's Guides

Teacher's Guides provide accessible support for teachers, including detailed guidance, ideas for English, maths and science in the early years classroom, assessment support, advice on resources, songs and games, and additional photocopiable activity sheets.

What to do – identifying children for daily individual support sessions

Use the Letters and Sounds assessments (every six weeks), as well as assessment within the daily lesson, to identify children who need either individual or group keep-up. Do not let children fall behind – take action as soon as possible.

Use the assessment again after three weeks to check that these children have filled their gaps.

Chapter 6

"Look!" shouted Tara, pointing at the robot. "The claw of that robot has brake fluid on it. I bet that robot is splitting the brake pipe!"

Ayesha nodded. "Looks that way. We'll get an engineer to the production line to fix the robot as fast as possible."

Ayesha went to talk to the foreman about the robot.

Tara heard one of the engineers tell another to tow away the faulty car.

"Take it to the crash test area. The other three cars with faulty brakes are there already. We'll keep them safe until their brakes can be fixed. There aren't any more crash tests today, so they won't be a danger to anyone."

Tara was horrified. Ortez! He'd gone to fetch one of those faulty cars. He was about to drive a car with no brakes!

Dreaming of dolphins

How much do you know about dolphins? Look at the photographs and read the information about swimming with dolphins.

Did you know that in some places you can swim in the ocean with wild dolphins? To do this, you must use special equipment. You must wear a wetsuit, a mask and a snorkel, and fins. The equipment helps you stay safe and lets you breathe when your face is under the water.

Dolphins can swim very fast and like to leap out of the water. They roll from side to side.

They look very cute, and are often friendly and curious when they meet humans. Dolphins are wild animals and so people must respect the animals and their environment.

Do you want to swim with dolphins? Why? / Why not?

18 Unit 3 Week 2

Important facts about dolphins

- Dolphins live all over the world in seas and oceans. Some dolphins even live in rivers.
- Dolphins eat fish, shrimps, squid and octopus. They hunt in groups.
- Dolphins can swim up to 40 km per hour.
- Dolphins call each other with clicking and squeaking sounds.
- A male dolphin can live up to 30 years. A female dolphin can live up to 50 years.

Dolphins must be protected. We must look after our sea. We must not throw litter and plastic into rivers and the oceans. We must also stop overfishing.

Why must we look after the sea?

Unit 3 Week 2 19

Science in context

6.3 Science and the environment

Large parts of the planet Earth are covered in water. Water is very important. Animals, humans and plants all need water to survive.

1 Look at the picture. What does it show?

Some places on the Earth do not have much water.

2 Look at the pictures. Describe what you can see.

3 How are the places different?

4 What do you think it is like to live in these places?

Key words

- Earth
- water

We can use what we know about science to help the world around us. We know that water is important so we must not waste it. We can do things to help save water.

DO NOT WASTE WATER

SLOW THE FLOW

5 Look at the picture. How does it say we can save water?

6 What could this girl do to save water while brushing her teeth?

Activities

1 Play a game about how we can waste water and how we can save water.

2 Design a game. Think of the different ways that we waste water and ways that we can save water. Then play your game.

3 Design a poster to help people save water. Draw pictures and add labels to explain the ways we can save water.

I have learned

- Water is important for all living things on Earth.
- We can help the planet by saving water.

7.3 Are we nearly there yet?

Holiday camps

An alternative to caravans or camping was going to spend a week at a holiday camp, like Butlin's or Pontins. You could stay in a chalet. This had a little more space. Meals were provided in huge dining rooms, where hundreds of people were fed at the same time. You had to make sure you went to the right sitting or you missed your meal!

Entertainment

There were all kinds of entertainments, both day and night, including indoor amusements in case it rained. Top entertainers would perform in the ballroom some evenings, and there were all kinds of competitions, from 'Glamorous Granny' to snooker and darts. There was something to do every minute of the day, from breakfast at 8 a.m. until midnight!

Theme parks

During the 1970s and 1980s theme parks, like Alton Towers

An advert for a Butlin's holiday camp chalet, 1960s

Roller coaster at a modern theme park

and Drayton Manor Theme Park, became popular places to go for a day out in the UK. New-style holiday resorts, like Center Parcs, appeared. Here you could cycle, walk or swim and have a 'healthy' holiday in attractive surroundings.

Resorts and places to stay have had to keep updating themselves to continue to attract people who want to have fun on holiday.

One of the latest trends is 'glamping' – camping in a little bit more luxury, with beds, bed linen, heating and cooking facilities provided. Things have certainly changed since the 1960s!

A 'glamping' pod

Glamping:

This is a short way to say 'glamorous camping' – everything is more luxurious when you are glamping, as you have a proper bed, heating and private bathroom.

Let's think about it!

Make a graph or chart showing all the different places everyone in your class went on holiday last year. How many people went in an aeroplane for their holiday?

Talk to your parents about the kinds of holidays they had when they were children. What kinds of things did they do when they were on holiday? What is the same, and what is different, between then and now?

Some people think glamping only started recently. See if you can find out about glamping in the past.

4.2 Growing up in Ancient Egypt

'Today is the happiest day of my life – we have finally adopted a child.'

Egyptian woman, writing in 1875 BCE

A toy cat with pull-along string

Caring for children

Ancient Egyptians loved children, and often had large families. Many babies died from infection and disease – some historians suggest more than one in three babies died. To help counteract this, mothers would breastfeed their children until they were three years old, and then wean them onto vegetables and a gruel or porridge made from stewed wheat or barley sweetened with honey or dates.

Children would wear no clothes until they were around 10 years old, making it easier to keep clean. They would have all their hair shaved off, apart from one long plait, or side-lock, that hung down one side of their head. Shaving off the side-lock was a sign that they were now an adult.

A doll made of wood, with hair made from clay beads

Fun and games

Much of life would be spent outside, playing. Everyone would learn to swim, but also to be careful of the crocodiles and hippopotamuses in the River Nile. Boys would learn to fight with sticks, spears and bows and arrows so they could hunt and fish or fight in the army of the pharaoh when they were older. Girls would learn to grind corn, cook, spin and weave and generally look after the household. But there were plenty of games too – many we still recognise today. Leapfrog and tug-of-war were popular, as were spinning tops, ball games, dolls and pull-along toys. Board games were very popular, the two best known were called Snake and Senet.

24

4.3 Growing up in Ancient Egypt

Pets were very popular. Many Egyptian families would have cats or dogs, birds or even monkeys as household pets, but these animals would be expected to earn their keep too. Cats would kill rats and mice in the granary; dogs would help with hunting; and monkeys were trained to climb tall trees and pick fruit and pass it down to people waiting below.

Jobs and careers

Children were expected to obey their parents without question, and were expected to help around the house from an early age. One Egyptian word for 'child' translates as 'servant', and another describes boys as 'walking sticks for their fathers'. Boys were expected to learn their father's trade and follow in his footsteps.

Think about it!

1. Why might adopting a child make this woman so happy? What does that tell us about attitudes towards children in Ancient Egypt?
2. Do you think it was fun being a child in Ancient Egypt?
3. How different was life for rich and poor children?

Let's do it!

1. Find out how you play Snake and/or Senet. Describe the rules to others in your group.
2. Write a story about a day, or an event, in the life of a young Egyptian boy or girl. Remember to make it realistic. Use examples from this unit, or that you have discovered for yourself.

Develop pupils' skills and check understanding with activities on each topic
