FROM INTERNATIONALLY BESTSELLING AUTHOR LEIGH BARDUGO COMES A HIGHLY ANTICIPATED HISTORICAL FANTASY SET DURING THE SPANISH GOLDEN AGE

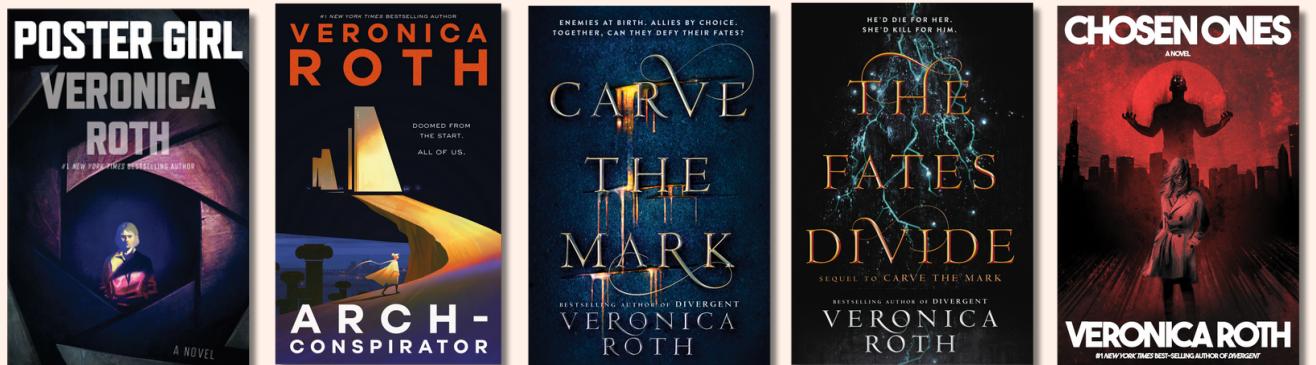

In a shabby house, on a shabby street, in the new capital of Madrid, Luzia Cotado uses scraps of magic to get through her days of endless toil as a scullion. But when her scheming mistress discovers the lump of a servant cowering in the kitchen is actually hiding a talent for little miracles, she demands Luzia use those gifts to better the family's social position.

What begins as simple amusement for the bored nobility takes a perilous turn when Luzia garners the notice of Antonio Pérez, the disgraced secretary to Spain's king. Still reeling from the defeat of his armada, the king is desperate for any advantage in the war against England's heretic queen—and Pérez will stop at nothing to regain the king's favor. Determined to seize this one chance to better her fortunes, Luzia plunges into a world of seers and alchemists, holy men and hucksters, where the lines between magic, science, and fraud are never certain. But as her notoriety grows, so does the danger that her Jewish blood will doom her to the Inquisition's wrath. She will have to use every bit of her wit and will to survive—even if that means enlisting the help of Guillén Santangel, an embittered immortal familiar whose own secrets could prove deadly for them both.

VERONICA ROTH

VERONICA ROTH is the New York Times best-selling author of Poster Girl, Chosen Ones, Arch-Conspirator, the Divergent series, and the Carve the Mark duology. She is also the guest editor of The Best American Science Fiction and Fantasy 2021. She lives in Chicago, Illinois.

WHEN AMONG CROWS

Contemporary Fantasy

Macmillan / Tor.com / May 14, 2024
~40,000 words | MS available | UK/ANZ Rights: Sold to Titan

DYMITR IS ON A MISSION.

On the one night a year that the powerful, magical fern flower blooms in the sanctuary of a Chicago church, Dymitr braves a brutal test in order to claim it. He's the first to have succeeded in decades.

ALA BEARS A CURSE. She's a zmora, a creature that feeds on fear, and she's afflicted with memories of death at the hands of the Holy Order, a fanatical group of humans who kill monsters just like her. When Dymitr comes to Ala with a deal—the fern flower that can break her curse, in exchange for her help finding the legendary witch Baba Jaga—she agrees. But Dymitr is keeping a deadly secret, one that binds them more closely than she knows. Over the course of one day, they survive lethal strzyga, murderous crows, cursed movie theaters, and a pack of bloodthirsty vampires—but they may not survive each other.

A CREW MUST TRY TO SURVIVE ON AN ANCIENT, ABANDONED PLANET

After a workplace tragedy calls her reputation into question, corporate psychologist Ophelia Bray is determined to prove herself. She volunteers for an off-planet assignment with Reclamation and Exploration team #356. As an expert in Eckhart-Reiser Syndrome, she is the perfect person to observe and assist as this R&E team recently suffered the loss of a teammate under unusual circumstances, possibly ERS.

But it's clear from the start—when two members pretend to have died from a sleep tank malfunction as a "prank"—that this team wants nothing to do with Ophelia. Isolated in an abandoned habitat on a planet that's been dead for thousands of years, judging by the eerie alien ruins in the distance. Just as Ophelia's starting to make inroads with the team, strange things begin to happen. Footsteps in the corridors at night; whispers she can't quite make out; odd, dissociative behavior from the team members; and terrible dreams that she can't seem to wake up from. Is this more hazing from the team? The start of ERS hallucinations? Or is the dark, bloody secret buried in Ophelia's past resurrecting itself against her will?

A SUMPTUOUS, GOTHIC-INFUSED STORY ABOUT A MARRIAGE THAT IS UNRAVELED BY DARK SECRETS, A FRIENDSHIP CURSED TO END IN TRAGEDY, AND THE DANGER OF BELIEVING IN FAIRY TALES

Once upon a time, a man who believed in fairy tales married a beautiful, mysterious woman named Indigo Maxwell-Castañada. He was a scholar of myths. She was heiress to a fortune. They exchanged gifts and stories and believed they would live happily ever after—and in exchange for her love, Indigo extracted a promise: that her bridegroom would never pry into her past.

But when the couple is forced to return to her childhood home, the bridegroom will soon find himself unable to resist. For within the crumbling manor's extravagant rooms and musty halls, there lurks the shadow of another girl: Azure, Indigo's dearest childhood friend who suddenly disappeared. As the house reveals his wife's secrets, the bridegroom will be forced to choose between reality and fantasy, even if doing so threatens to end their marriage . . . or their lives.

A SAPPHIC RIVALS TO LOVERS ROMCOM FOR FANS OF TED LASSO AND A LEAGUE OF THEIR OWN

Grace Henderson has been a star of the US Women's National Team for ten years. But when she's sidelined with an injury, a bold new upstart, Phoebe Matthews, takes her spot. 22-year-old Phoebe is everything Grace isn't—a gregarious jokester who plays with a joy that Grace lost somewhere along the way. The last thing Grace expects is to become teammates with benefits with this class clown she sees as her rival. As the World Cup approaches, a miscommunication leaves the women with hilariously different perspectives on their relationship. But they're on the same page on the field, realizing they can play together instead of vying for the same position. With every tackle the tension between them grows, and both players soon have to decide what's more important—being together or making the roster. The perfect blend of funny and steamy, Mery Wilsner's Cleat Cute is about being brave enough to win on and off the field.

Lisa Carmen Wang is the Founder and CEO of Bad Bitch Empire, a global investment platform building unapologetic worth and wealth for women. She is a former Olympic-Level, four-time USA National Champion & USA Hall of Fame gymnast, serial entrepreneur (with exit), venture capitalist, international speaker, certified executive coach and host of the Bad Bitch Empire Podcast. Lisa is an Executive Board Member of Fast Company and has been recognized as a Forbes 30 under 30 honoree, Red Bull Hero of The Year, and Entrepreneur Magazine's 100 Most Powerful Women.

Lisa Carmen Wang was raised to be a good girl, but as she grew up, the never-ending pursuit of being the perfect good girl left her feeling hollow, despite her achievements as a champion gymnast, straight-A student, and Ivy League graduate. Her fears of failure and rejection and her worries about other peoples' opinions held her back from embracing her most authentic and powerful self at work and in life. But all that changed when Lisa realized she was capable of so much more; a Bad Bitch was waiting to be unleashed. THE BAD BITCH BUSINESS BIBLE is Lisa's no-holds-barred guide for women who want to break free of Good Girl Brainwashing and take charge of their bodies, boundaries, and bank accounts. Interweaving intimate personal stories with large life lessons, Lisa shows you how to transform from insecure good girl to unapologetic Bad Bitch so you can start earning the money, power, and respect you deserve.

THE BRANCHES OF A MURDER MYSTERY STRETCH FROM WORLD WAR II GERMANY, THROUGH A DIVIDED COLD WAR BERLIN, AND INTO MODERN DAY NEW YORK AS LOVE, RESISTANCE, AND JUSTICE ENTANGLE TO REVEAL SHOCKING TRUTHS.

In the forest outside a small town in Germany, stands a centuries-old tree called The Bridegroom Oak for its ability for matchmaking. It stands tall to time, and throughout the years has had many visitors and romances. Told through three intersecting timelines the tree watches over friends Hanna and Sophie in Germany during WWII; Jenny & Lena, during the punk years of West and East Berlin, 1980; and an internet romance between pandemic-lockdown high school seniors Miles and Chloe, in New York City and Minneapolis, respectively, Spring of 2020.

There is a story-within-a-story, and a mystery: what happened in that forest decades ago that resulted in the recent discovery of two bodies, the Bridegroom Oak seemingly the only witness to the crime? As present-day Miles and Chloe attempt to solve the mystery, their search will lead them to startling connections between themselves and these long-ago murders, for we are all connected, our actions affecting other lives endlessly, rippling out toward the future in ways we cannot always see.

THREE FEUDING EXES OF A SOCIAL MEDIA PRANK STAR MUST WORK TOGETHER TO SOLVE HIS DISAPPEARANCE

No one knows what happened in the theme park the night social media prank star Tommy Harding disappeared. Except maybe the three suspects: Kiara, Tommy's girlfriend; Neveah, his childhood friend from church; and Priscilla, Tommy's costar on their blog.

In his last hours Tommy had triple booked them for a midnight date in the park, and during each of their dates they'd each confronted Tommy for cheating. One of them got revenge. And they all vowed to keep the truth of what happened that night a secret.

When Tommy Harding's body is discovered in the now shut-down theme park, the world mourns him, and the three girls realize that in the age of the internet, secrets won't stay secrets for very long.

Elizabeth Agyemang is the author of Fibbed; she writes about magic, history, folklore, love, and fairy tales, and draws from elements of her Ghanaian heritage and faith. She was born in Kumasi and lives in New Jersey.

AFTER HER MOTHER'S DEATH, A TEEN PIECES TOGETHER THE MYSTERIOUS TRUTH OF HER FAMILY'S PAST

You can say Harlow Ford has a complicated life. She knows nothing about her family, her father left, and her enigmatic mother forces them to upend their lives by moving towns every few months.

According to her, some dangerous presence - though she won't say what - is after them. When the cops get suspicious, they move. When the neighbors are too loud, they move. When the neighbors are too quiet, they move! Each time, Harlow has to change her name and identity. But she's tired of running and beginning to think that her mom made this whole danger up. And then a truck smashes into them...

Rebecca Barrow writes stories about girls and all the wonders they can be. She lives in England, where it rains a considerable amount more than in the fictional worlds of her characters. She collects tattoos, cats, and more books than she could ever possibly read.

WELCOME TO COLDWATER. COME FOR THE GHOSTS, STAY FOR THE DRAMA.

Jericka Walker is dragged to the middle-of-nowhere Coldwater to be with her estranged grandmother as she dies. While Jericka attempts to form a connection with a woman she's never known, and adjusts to a life in a town where everything closes before dinner, she meets "ghost girl" Kat, a girl she's inexplicably drawn to despite some troubling town gossip and Jericka's own complicated relationship status. As summer unwinds, Jericka uses her senior photography portfolio to capture the town as it is—and as it was—only to discover that Coldwater has a few unsettling secrets of its own. The more you try to leave, the stronger the town's hold. As she feels the chilling pull of her family's past, Jericka begins to question everything she thought she knew about her mother, her childhood, and the lines between the living and the dead.

Ciera Burch is a lifelong writer, ice cream aficionado, and ghost lover. She has a B.A from American University and an MFA from Emerson College. She currently resides in Washington, D.C with her stuffed animals, plants, and far too many books.

A HIGH SCHOOL GIRL WHO IS BATTLING UNDIAGNOSED OCD WHILE WORKING AT HER TOWN'S SUMMER CARNIVAL.

Plagued by paralyzing thoughts of harming others, Ariel is afraid of her own mind. She already feels like she is too large, too queer, too rough to live up to her parents' exacting expectations, and now she is convinced something much deeper is wrong with her. And ever since her older sister escaped to college, Ariel isn't sure if her careful rituals and practiced distance will be enough to keep those around her safe from the dark impulses she can't tune out.

Spending her summer working at a carnival, Ariel finds herself questioning her desire to keep everyone out—of her head and her heart. With the help and support of new friends Rex and Ruth, Ariel discovers new directions for her future and for the first time learns there's a name for what she struggles with—Obsessive Compulsive Disorder—and that she's not broken, and not alone.

EVERY WISH DEMANDS A PRICE

In the old tales, it is written that the egg of a seadragon, dragonfruit, holds within it the power to undo a person's greatest sorrow. But as with all things that offer hope when hope had gone, the tale came with a warning.

Hanalei lives the life of exile. Until, one day, an encounter with a female dragon offers her what she desires most: a chance to return home and right a terrible wrong. Sam is the last remaining prince of Tamarind. But he can never inherit the throne, for Tamarind is a matriarchal society. With his mother ill and his grandmother nearing the end of her reign, Sam is left with two choices: to marry, or to find a cure for the sickness that has plagued his mother for ten years. As they Hanalei and Sam reunite to battle enemies near and far, there is another danger they cannot escape...that of the dragonfruit itself.

WITH ITS CLEVER SNARK AND UNYIELDING PERSPECTIVE, CANCELLED IS A FUNNY, FEARLESS NOVEL ABOUT THE REALISTIC PITFALLS AND UNFORGETTABLE MOMENTS HIGH SCHOOL HAS TO OFFER

When an incriminating video goes viral, Brynn finds herself at the center of a school-wide scandal of ruinous proportions. She knows she's not the girl in the video hooking up with her former best friend's boyfriend, but adding that to her reputation of being a serial dater, she quickly starts losing friends.

Brynn and her three best friends are determined to take down all the haters. But as she gets closer to identifying the person in the video that got her cancelled, Brynn must decide—is exposing the girl worth losing everything she's worked so hard for? This witty, unapologetic novel by Farrah Penn boldly tackles the double standards that seek to bring girls down, and shines a light on the loving, uplifting friendships that can help them make it through those brutal four years.

ORIE LENNOX NEEDS TO COME OUT OF HER COMFORT ZONE TO HELP SAVE HER FAMILY'S HOME AND FIND LOVE . . . ALL ON CAMERA!

Orie Lennox has spent her life prepping for her happily ever after -- and now that she's graduated, she's kind of wondering, where the hell is it? She doesn't really like her boyfriend, she doesn't love her shiny new job, and her sister, Lark, recently called her codependent. It might be time for Orie to do something sort of, maybe, drastic. Like apply to be stranded for forty days on an island with a bunch of strangers to play a game of human chess.

Plus her family actually really, really needs that million-dollar prize. But then she's cast in an experimental dating edition of the show: speed dating, on camera, in the wilderness. Without bathrooms, normal food, shaving cream, or showers. How do you date without deodorant, in a constant state of hanger? Now Orie's kind of freaking out. She has to find her footing in the wild, secure the prize money, and lockdown love all at the same time.

The thrilling sequel and conclusion to the City of Nightmares duology! Nightmares—people who'd been turned into their worst fears while they slept—are the only dangerous thing in Newham. Working at a speakeasy where gunfights are common and death is a regular occurrence, nineteen-year-old Ness knows it's easy to die in Newham, but it's hard to live.

So when the Nightmare Phantom—the monster that turns people into Nightmares—shows up, asking Ness a favor, she agrees, but only if he turns her into a Nightmare. One of her own choosing, something bulletproof and strong and able to live without fear. But when Ness's attempt to fulfill the bargain goes wrong, she finds herself in the crosshairs of enemies old and new, and this time, she can't run from her problems. If she wants to survive, she's going to have to conquer the most difficult enemy of all: herself.

WHEN TWO EX-BEST FRIENDS DECIDE TO HOLD A COMPETITION FOR THE NEW GIRL'S HEART, THEY DON'T EXPECT TO FALL FOR EACH OTHER INSTEAD.

Emma has been a thorn in Caleb's side since middle school. Having tarnished their friendship in eighth grade, she's now little more to him than an unkempt, unruly, disastrous bisexual mess. Over the years, she's gotten in the way of every romantic relationship he's attempted to settle into, using little more than mischievous charisma to lure them into her clutches.

To Emma, Caleb sets the record for World's Largest Stick in the Mud. Uptight, unbearably tidy, and a rule-follower, he's exactly the kind of boring person her mother wishes she was. When she discovers they're both after Juliet, the new girl, Emma proposes a competition to nudge him out of the way. Whoever can get Juliet to kiss them first wins.

But plans go awry when Juliet seems mostly interested in hanging out with both of them together. Emma and Caleb just have to figure out whether winning Juliet's heart is worth the torment of constantly dealing with each other, and the risk of reopening wounds from a past they thought they had left behind.

TWO HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS FORM A COMPLICATED, GROUND-SHIFTING BOND WHILE FILMING A MOCKUMENTARY.

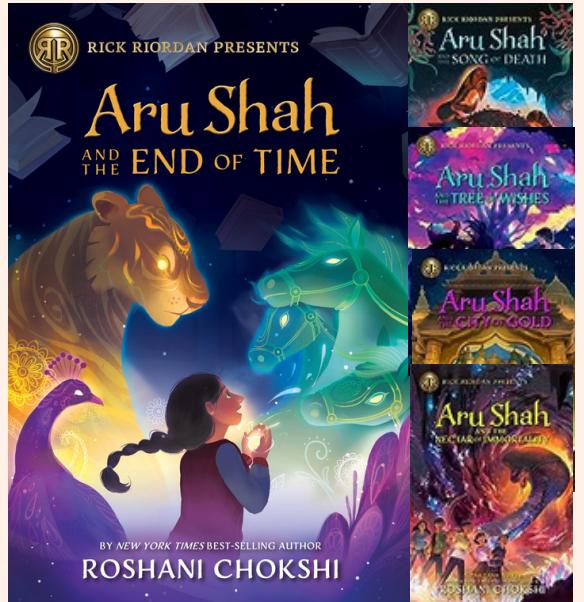

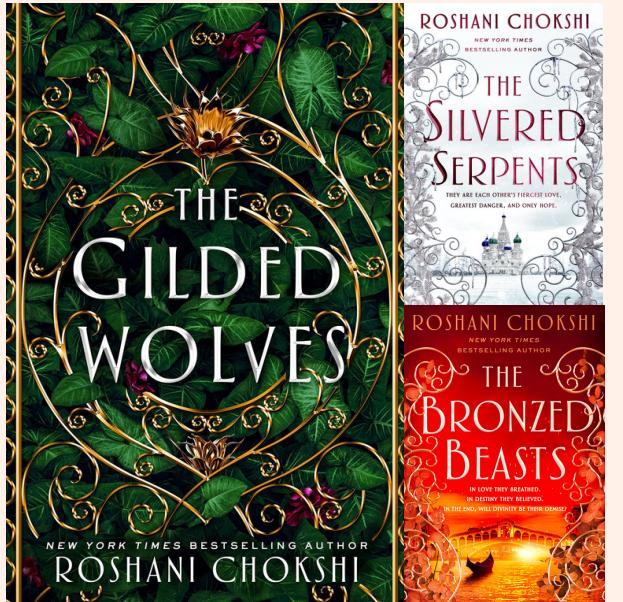

Sixteen-year-old Felix Ma is only cynically trawling for extracurricular excellence for his college applications when he decides to make a short film. But then he meets bubbly Cassie Chow, who shares Felix's anxieties about the future and complicated relationship with parental expectations, and invites her to star in the film.

While the project starts out as a lighthearted mockumentary, at the urging of Felix's college admissions coach, it soon morphs into a serious drama about the emotional scars that parents leave on their kids. As Felix and Cassie uncover their most painful memories, Cassie starts to balk at opening her wounds for the camera. As Felix discovers painful truths about himself and his own past, he must decide whether academic achievement is worth losing his closest friend.

GATHERING SOME OF THE MOST CELEBRATED AND INNOVATIVE BLACK WOMEN AND NONBINARY WRITERS OF THE MOMENT...

...this anthology will uplift and inspire Black girls to step into the power they've always had within them.

It will remind Black girls of their value and worth on every page, centering joy and strength while also reclaiming the language of "girl power"—a slogan that has for so long been solely assigned to white girls. From fantasy to contemporary, from the city to the country, from the past to the future, Black Girl Power reflects the diversity and robustness of Black girlhood and its myriad of magics.

Contributors include Leah Johnson, Amerie, Dhonielle Clayton, Elise Bryant, Ibi Zoboi, Janae Marks, Kalynn Bayron, Karen Strong, Kekla Magoor, and more.

Leah Johnson is an eternal midwesterner and author of award-winning books for children and young adults. ALSO SUMMON A DEEPER (...AND MORE DANGEROUS)
MAGIC THAN ANYBODY SAW COMING.

In a crumbly little cottage beside Cove Lake with rumors of dragon magic in the air, twelve-year-old Roxie Daylight is helping her dad sort through her late Nana's belongings (along with the fun memories they shared) when she finds Nana Belle's old banjo in the basement. Roxie could use a little magic in her life right now. If magic really existed, she'd use it to fill up the hole in her heart from losing Nana, for starters.

When Roxie's family nemesis Lawrence DuPree - the song-stealing villain himself! - comes to a morning assembly, with his banjo-playing son, Will Paris Dupree, Roxie challenges him. So begins a strange and magical quest: each night, a new instrument magically appears in the woods behind Roxie's trailer, and each one leads Roxie to more of Nana's eccentric old bandmates.

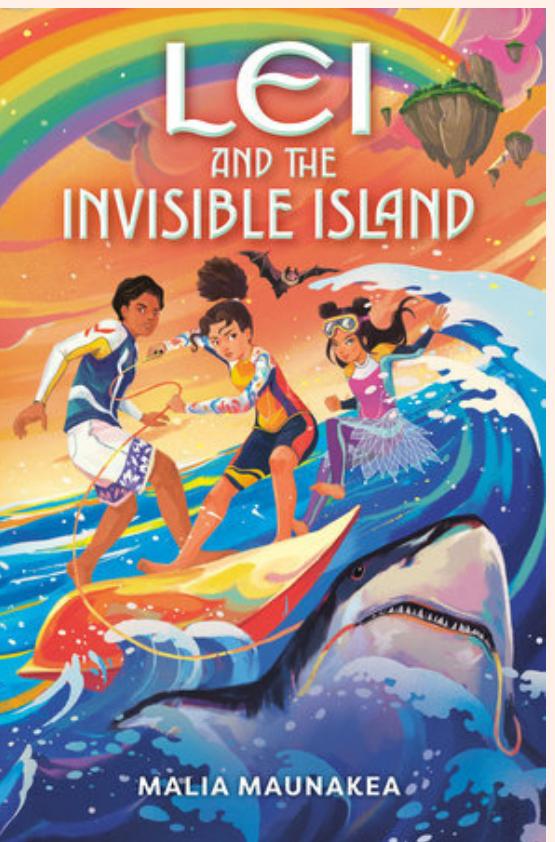

LEI AND THE INVISIBLE ISLAND

by Malia Maunakea

Contemporary Fantasy

Penguin Random House / Penguin Workshop / Summer 2024

~100,000 words | MS not available | UK/ANZ Rights: Available via PRH

AN EXCITING FOLLOW-UP TO LEI AND THE FIRE GODDESS FEATURES A MYSTERIOUS, INVISIBLE ISLAND, DANGEROUS SPIRITS, AND A NEWCOMER WHO DOES NOT NEED LEI'S HELP . . . OR DOES SHE?

After saving her best friend and ancestral guardian, Kaipo, from Pele the Fire Goddess's traps, and successfully preventing lava from destroying her Tūtū's house, all Lei wants to do is take a nap. The only problem? Kaipo's aumakua pendant is missing, and without it, he will soon disintegrate . . . emotionally and physically.

So Lei, Kaipo, her favorite talking bat, Ilikea, and newcomer Kahi—a fiercely independent fashionista—set off on a journey to an invisible island where they hope to find Kaipo's pendant. To get there, they'll have to contend with sharks, jump over a rainbow, and literally float on clouds. And when they arrive? The crew realizes that the missing pendant is the least of their problems. For there are evil spirits on this island, and they're out for blood.

Malia Maunakea (she/her) is a part-Hawaiian writer who grew up in the rainforest on the Big Island before moving to a valley on O'ahu in seventh grade. She relocated to the continent for college, and when she isn't writing can be found roaming the Colorado Rocky Mountains with her husband, their two children, and a rescue mutt named Peggy.

COVER TO COME

ALL VIOLET EVER WANTED IS TO BE A REAPER CAPTAIN LIKE HER FATHER.

All thirteen-year-old Violet Moon has ever wanted is to be a Reaper captain like her father. Born on the Tides of the Lost—a world beneath the waves of the Atlantic Ocean caused by a mass rebellion on a slave ship of the Middle Passage—Violet has spent her life rescuing souls lost in the water and bringing them to the city of Horizon.

But then a rescue mission is interrupted by the arrival of the dreaded Children of the Shark—weaponized ghost hybrids who want lost souls for themselves—and Violet's father is pulled down into their depths. Now it's up to Violet to save her father and stop the Children of the Shark before they consume the world.

Julian Randall is a Living Queer Black poet from Chicago. He has received fellowships from Callaloo, BOAAT and the Watering Hole. 15 SECRETS TO SURVIVAL

by Natalie D. Richards

Adventure

Penguin Random House / Delacorte / November 7, 2023
~70,000 words | MS Available | UK/ANZ Rights: Available via NL

FROM NEW YORK TIMES BESTSELLING AUTHOR NATALIE D. RICHARDS COMES A THRILLER ABOUT A GROUP OF FOUR CLASSMATES FORCED TO NAVIGATE THE WILDERNESS

If there's one thing Baxter's sure about, it's that he doesn't want to spend a long winter weekend in his long-lost uncle's remote mountain cabin. Especially not when it means sharing a cabin with Baxter's parents' best friends and their kids: all of whom pretty much hate each other.

This snarky, silly romp is perfect for young readers looking for survival stories. Between facing fire, an avalanche, hypothermia, and even a hostile moose, this book really runs the gamut of wildlife wackiness. And maybe, just maybe, it'll bring a group of fighting friends even closer together!

You can find Natalie's Thriller, 49 MILES, in the Young Adult section

THE SECRET DEAD CLUB

by Karen Strong

Contemporary / Paranormal

A STORY FOCUSING ON GIRL FRIENDSHIPS IN THE VEIN OF TURNING RED
BUT WITH A SPOOKY SPECULATIVE TWIST A LA VICTORIA SCHWAB'S CITY OF GHOSTS.

After a terrifying experience with a wicked ghost, Wednesday and her mother move back to their family home, and Wednesday becomes determined not to use her gift anymore—until she meets a group of girls who also know about the spirit realm.

When free-spirited Miki Okada and Southern belle Danni Lynn-Porter give Wednesday an official invitation to the Dead Club, she starts to understand there's a lot more going on with the ghosts in town and the girls who can see them. And when another malevolent ghost threatens to harm Wednesday, it will take the help of new friends both living and dead to save her and banish the evil being to the spirit realm where it belongs.

Karen Strong is a lifelong technology and science geek and the author of the critically acclaimed middle grade novel Just South of Home and Eden's Everdark. She has also written short fiction for Star Wars and other award-winning anthologies. A graduate of the University of Georgia, Karen lives in Atlanta.

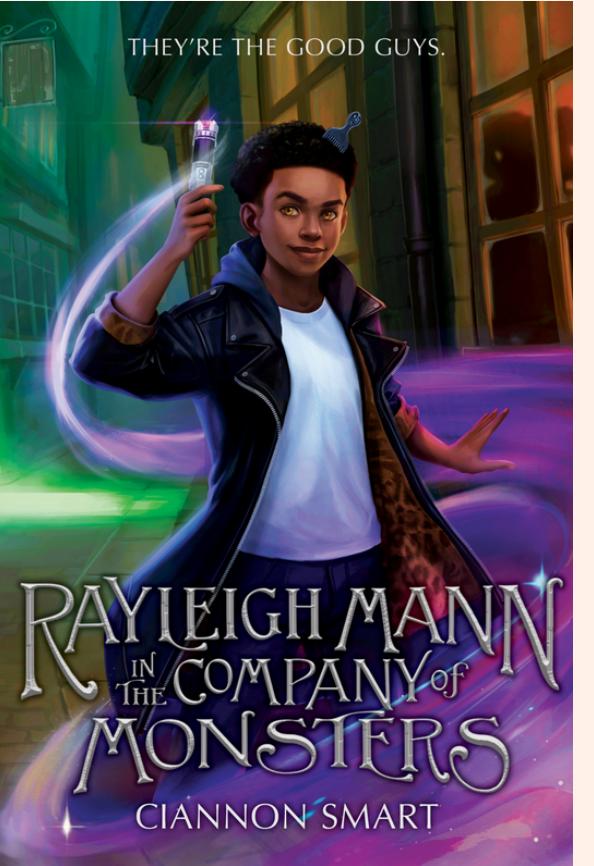

RAYLEIGH MANN IN THE COMPANY OF MONSTERS

by Ciannon Smart

Fantasy

HarperCollins/ HarperTeen / September 26, 2023

~90,000 words | MS Available | UK/ANZ Rights: Sold to Picadilly Press

SET IN AN ALTERNATE MODERN-DAY WORLD, RAYLEIGH MANN IS INSPIRED BY ASPECTS OF CARIBBEAN LORE AND THE IMPORTANCE OF IDENTITY.

It's widely believed that eleven-year-old Rayleigh Mann will never be more than a troublemaker. So while it's no surprise when he's ambushed on All Hallows' Eve—more of a minor inconvenience—it is a surprise when his rescue comes in the form of a horned monster, brandishing a sword of light, who calls him nephew. With the help of a plucky hunter's daughter, Rayleigh embarks on a journey that shows him what it takes to be a Mann in a world full of monsters—and not just the type who hide under beds.

Book 2 will publish in Fall 2024

Of Jamaican heritage, Ciannon Smart grew up in a small town in the south-east of England. She loves her heroines exactly as she loves her villains: willful, wily, and unpredictable.

JOURNEY TO THE WEST MEETS AVATAR THE LAST AIRBENDER

Wukong was once the most feared beast of heaven, earth, and underworld and created havoc everywhere. After losing a battle to a Buddha he was trapped under a pile of heavy rocks for 500 years until he was rescued by a monk. Wukong accompanied the monk on a perilous journey, and they eventually reached the West and brought Buddha's words of wisdom back to their country. Wukong was rewarded and became a deity. When the Jade Emperor of heaven asked Wukong to investigate appearances of monsters, Wukong reluctantly took on the mission. MONKEY KING AND THE WORLD OF MYTHS brings the famous Wukong into a myriad of action-packed, mythological fantasy worlds. Wukong will meet famous gods, heroes, beasts and demons. Along the way, he will make friends, battle monsters, and learn to balance his identity as a beast and a deity.

FOR FANS OF BABYSITTERS CLUB GRAPHIC NOVEL SERIES

Emma can't help comparing herself to her bright and popular older sister, Julia. Try as she might, Emma can't seem to please her mom as much as her sister does.

The more Emma measures herself alongside Julia and others, the more pressure she feels to try to change. But trying to be as good as everyone else at everything is exhausting and frustrating. With help from her friends and basketball teammates, as well as Lexi, the French bulldog she's dogsitting, Emma realizes that there's no such thing as "perfect"—and it feels better to be true to herself, instead of trying to please others. But will other people, especially her mom, understand that Emma may not excel at the same things as her sister?

Adventure / Fantasy

HarperCollins / Katherine Tegen Books / October 10, 2023

40 pages | MS Available | UK/ANZ Rights: Available via Harper

JAPANESE MYTHOLOGY MEETS WHERE THE WILD THINGS ARE

The ground thunders in Tokyo. A gust of wind blows. The pitter-patter of paws and claws draws closer. The air is thick with swirling, swooping demons.

It's Eka's favorite evening of the year, the one night she refuses to miss. But it's become harder to travel to Japan now that she's living across the world in New York. Unsure of when she can return next to see her yokai friends, Eka tries to forget that this could be her last parade for some time.

Instead, she'll march, sing, dance, hoot, and screech until sunrise. Because on this night, there's no time to waste—the night parade awaits.
